

Our Free Gut Health Talk project is expanding and we are recruiting!

AC Health & Nutrition are looking for a number of Dietitians to join our existing team of 9 RDs delivering our educational training sessions to HCP's nationwide. The focus is to increase the awareness of gut health and support (IBS in particular) through evidence-based solutions such as probiotics.

I regularly deliver these sessions and they go down extremely well with the audience, plus there is an incentive for each participant who attends the training session.

You will receive full training before being responsible for delivering the 30 minute educational training sessions.

We are looking for a number of Dietitians across the UK (around 4-5 RDs), in particular the following regions:

Mid and South Wales
South West England – Cornwall/Devon/Dorset/Wiltshire
Oxfordshire/Berkshire
West Midlands including Birmingham

Working patterns are flexible and set by you to suit your individual needs. As a result you will be responsible for your own working diary.

You will also be responsible for generating your own leads including:

GP surgeries (private and NHS)
Dietitian departments
Gastroenterologists
Nutritionists

This project expansion will start as soon as we have filled the positions. But we are aiming for asap. The project will continue until the end of 2025.
