

Volunteer opportunity to work as part of the AC Health and Nutrition Ltd team

Starting asap – ongoing (Please state how long you can volunteer for on your application).

We are looking for enthusiastic and passionate volunteers who are either student dietitians or recently graduated dietitians to join our nationwide project.

We have a fabulous opportunity for you where you can build practical experience in nutrition communication, professional networking, and public health promotion while supporting the Dietitian in delivering evidence-based nutrition education. You will be supporting a Registered Dietitian to engage with healthcare professionals (HCPs) such as Registered Dietitians, GPs and Gastroenterologists to increase awareness of Symprove and promote the evidence base supporting the role of probiotics in gut health and IBS.

In return for volunteering, you will be able to shadow the Registered Dietitian whilst they present their talks on this project. (Please note – you will need to be self-sufficient getting to the venues). This would be a fantastic role to place on your CV/future job applications. Plus, you will also receive 12 weeks free samples of the product.

Skills and Experience Gained:

- Excellent CPD opportunity
- Insight into working with healthcare organisations and professionals.
- Experience in nutrition communication and networking.
- Knowledge of probiotics and their role in gut health.

Key Responsibilities:

1. Communication and generating leads
 - Contact NHS Trusts and GP surgeries to propose a 30-minute presentation on Gut Health and Symprove.
 - Provide information about the content and relevance of the presentation tailored to different healthcare professionals.
2. Organisational and administrative Support
 - Follow up with contacts to confirm details, answer questions, or reschedule if needed.
 - Coordinate and maintain a list of contacts and confirmed sessions for the Registered Dietitian.

AC HEALTH & NUTRITION

Initially, we shall be asking you to email rather than phone these HCPs, but once you have seen the educational gut health talk, you can phone dietetic departments, GP surgeries and Gastro teams.

You will be working with one Registered Dietitian and be liaising with them directly. Plus Alison Clark, Director of AC Health and Nutrition Ltd. will be available to offer additional support.

We are looking for volunteers in the following areas:-

Bedfordshire area

Dundee and surrounding areas

Cheshire area

We would still like to hear from you if you are based outside of these areas especially if you feel passionate about joining the team, please still do apply. (The reason we have stated these areas is because it will be easier for you to see the talks in action if they are near to you.)

How to Apply...

Please send your CV and a covering letter including a brief statement about your interest in the role to admin@achn.co.uk.

Please also state which area (if any) you are interested in and how long you can volunteer.

Thank you and good luck.
