Simply Different Foodservice

Job Opportunities

There are some exciting food service nutrition & dietetic opportunities available at BonCulina UK.

There are a range of permanent and interim positions covering short-term and long-term projects as the dietetic team expands to cover market growth.

Some roles can be undertaken remotely while others require onsite presence in the central production unit in Colchester, Essex. Training will be provided for all roles.

We are looking for people with a passion for food, food standards, therapeutic diets, and who care about the health of consumers. Experience in the NHS would be an advantage.

Please contact Ruth Smith (RD), Head of Nutrition & Marketing for an informal chat if you are interested or unsure if it's for you.

For applications, please email CVs with covering letters to Ruth directly.
